

YOUTH EDUCATION PROGRAM (YEP)

Inadequate school infrastructure and learning materials hinder academic performance of youth in rural Ghana, inhibiting their future possibilities. GHEI's YEP addresses this challenge by improving quality of education for Junior High School (JHS) students, enabling them to attend Senior High School (SHS) and pursue better opportunities!

HOW DOES YEP WORK?

YEP offers supplemental classes to JHS students in Humjibre village, Ghana. The classes have a significantly smaller student to teacher ratio than regular schools, have a variety of materials and resources that are not commonly available, and focus on active learning and thinking skills, while helping students prepare for their critical Basic Education Certification Examination (BECE)*.

20 hours
of extra class per week

of extra class per week

18:1
student to teacher ratio

student to teacher ratio

60%
of students are female

of students are female

*The BECE is the main admissions exam students must take to attend senior high or vocational school.

IMPACT

Since 2013, all YEP students have passed BECE and over 50% have achieved high passing scores, indicating excellent performance.

over 50%
achieved high passing scores

YEP & BEYOND: A JOURNEY OF EMPOWERMENT

YEP is an important tool and plays a significant role in designing the future of our students as successful persons. It lessens the challenges they will face and prepares them for the time after senior high school. Through YEP, they gain more knowledge that opens more opportunities, allowing them to achieve better possibilities for career and personal growth.

All YEP graduates attending senior high school go on to attend university or technical training.

POST SHS OUTCOMES

